DESCRIPTION

2024 Honda Civic Sedan LX-B

The Honda Civic Sedan delivers a balance of efficiency, reliability, and modern technology, making it one of the most practical choices for everyday driving. Depending on the trim, it is available with either a 2.0-litre 4-cylinder engine or an advanced hybrid powertrain with a dual-motor system, offering a strong combination of performance and fuel efficiency. Power is delivered through a continuously variable transmission (CVT) or an electronic CVT (e-CVT) on hybrid models, with front-wheel drive for smooth and responsive handling. Inside, the Civic offers a well-designed cabin focused on comfort and usability. The interior includes available heated front seats, dual-zone automatic climate control, and smart entry with push-button start, along with a 60/40 split folding rear seat to enhance cargo flexibility. Technology is built around connectivity and ease of use, with an available ...
